Categories and Source of Personal Data

We collect the following personal data:

- From our members, we collect personal information when signing up for membership of our organisation, such as name, phone number, date of application, years of experience, email address, link to personal LinkedIn profile, job title, name of employer, skills and competences and information about desire to speak at public events.
- We collect personal data via information provided by you when applying for or accepting membership, and registering for or participating in events, networking, or other membership activities.
- The above also includes a consent to participate in WiRED events sponsored by companies, e.g. hosts of our events. The sponsoring or host companies may show their logos, provide short presentations of their companies, typically related to the energy sector, or hand out small product samples.

- We collect personal data from emails sent to the organisation's e-mail address, emails of board members, or the organisation's LinkedIn profile for the purposes of sharing information and engaging in dialogue with stakeholders about the organisation's purpose and activities.
- In some instances, we collect data at our meetings and network activities, e.g. photographs and videos.

Purpose and Legal Basis for Personal Data Processing

The purposes for collecting and processing your personal data are:

- Regular membership administration, including invoicing and accounting.
- Handling of your membership rights according to our Articles of Association, including in relation to our Annual General Meeting.
- Planning, invitation, conduct and follow-up on membership activities such as events, network meetings and mentorship activities.
- For non-members and other stakeholders: replying to requests, providing information about the organisation, invitations to and participation in events and mentorship activities.
- Storage and processing of information for historical or statistical purposes.

The processing of personal data for membership administration and participation in the association's activities is generally based on the performance of the membership relationship and WiRED's legitimate interests in operating and developing the association and its activities.

Consent

As a general principle, our processing of your personal data will rely on legal bases other than direct consent, according to the above. Therefore, we will only request your consent when it is necessary to process your personal data for purposes not already described in this Privacy Policy.

If we request your consent for processing your data for other purposes, it is voluntary to provide such consent, and you may withdraw it at any time by contacting us.

Recipients of Personal Data

Your name, job title, name of employer and email address may be shared with other members, or potential members, of the association in order to support networking activities.

Besides that, your personal data will only be transferred to third parties if it is necessary to provide the service or activity that you have signed up for, and the data will only be used by the third party for that specific purpose.

Thus, we may transfer your personal data to WiRED's business partners and suppliers, such as IT support providers, back-office service providers, accountants and event management services, when such sharing is necessary to administer your membership or to conduct services and activities for which you have registered.

These business partners may only process the personal data in accordance with our instructions and may not use your personal data for their own purposes.

In connection with WiRED meetings and events, your name, job title and employer may be included on participant lists shared with selected third parties, such as speakers, event hosts or other participants attending the same event.

Use of Photographs and Videos from Meetings and Events

WiRED may use photographs and videos from events and meetings in presentations, on websites, social media and other digital communication channels.

We use photographs and videos to communicate about our activities, document our events and promote future events and initiatives.

If you wish to have a published photograph removed in which you are identifiable, you may contact WiRED at connect@wiredforum.dk and, to the extent reasonably possible, the photograph will be removed from future use.

Storage and Deletion

We will delete your personal data when we no longer need to process it for one or more of the purposes described above.

For practical and administrative purposes, we may store ordinary membership information for up to three years after your membership has ceased.

If your personal data is included in WiRED's accounting records, such information may be retained for five years from the end of the relevant financial year in accordance with applicable accounting legislation.

Personal data contained in emails relating to membership administration or other organisational processes is not retained as a permanent record and will generally be reviewed and deleted no later than six months after the relevant administrative process has been completed.

Data Subject Rights

You are entitled to information about how we process the personal data we have collected about you. You have the right to request access to, and receive a copy of, the personal data that we process about you. You have the right to have incorrect personal data rectified and incomplete personal data completed. You have the right to request deletion of personal data concerning you in certain circumstances, for example where processing is based on consent and you withdraw that consent. You may withdraw any consent given to the processing of your personal data at any time. Withdrawal of consent will not affect processing carried out before the withdrawal. You may also have the right to object to certain processing activities or request restriction of processing, subject to applicable law. If you wish to exercise your rights, please contact us at connect@wiredforum.dk.

Personal Data Breaches

WiRED will investigate and handle any personal data breach in accordance with applicable data protection legislation and will notify relevant supervisory authorities and affected individuals where required by law.

Complaints

You may file a complaint with the Danish Data Protection Agency if you disagree with our handling of your personal data.

Information about the complaints procedure can be found at Datatilsynet.
